DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claim 2 is objected to because of the following informalities: the limitation "disposed nearer to one end in said longitudinal direction" is not clear as to what it is being compared to. Nearer as compared to what other element in the structure?. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

2. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. In claim 1, the language "held partially or totally in between the labia" is directed to nonstatutory subject matter, because the claim positively recites a part of the human body. Applicant has positively recited both the wearer of the article, and the interlabial pad. Examiner assumes that Applicant intends to positively recite the structure of the pad, but not the wearer. Examiner suggests that Applicant modify the phrase "and in contact relation to" to either adapted for use with, or intended to be used with language.

Double Patenting

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

4. Claims 1, 2, 6, and 15, are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 2, 7, 13, 14 copending Application No. 110706303. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because it would have been obvious to size the size the finger application area to restrict movement beyond a certain point so that the pad is not forced into the labia.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.
